REPUBLICANS IN FIGHT TO FINISH

Newly Elected County Chairman Sounds Keynote in Address

PRELIMINARIES DISCUSSED

At a well attended meeting of the Republican county committee Monday at Washington, Joseph T. Hemphill, of East Washington, former sheriff, and until Monday postmaster of Washington, was elected county chairman. At the time preliminaries to the waging of a hot fight by a reunited party were talked over. The newly elected chairman and Col. J. E. Barnett of Washington made stirring addresses.

The election of Mr. Hemphill to take the place of Norman E. Clark, who resigned last week to become a judicial candidate, was unanimous.

Edwin C. McGregor, secretary of the committee, called the session to order and read Retiring Chairman Clark's resignation. Attorney D. M. McCloskey of Charleroi was made temporary chairman. John F. Carmichael of Washington nominated Mr. Hemphill for chairman, the nomination being seconded by O. Evans Mikesell of Washington. There were no other nominations and the secretary was directed to cast a unanimous ballot for Hemphill.

James P. Eagleson of Washington and Kerfoot W. Daly of Charleroi were named a committee to inform the new chairman of his selection. They escorted him into the meeting and presented him to the committee.

In his address Chairman Hemphill said that the country is now approaching a national election and that harmony must be maintained by the Republican party and there must be no halting in the fight to place a Republican president in the chair and with him elect a Republican congress.

At the conclusion of the new chairman's address, Attorney Alexander P. Reed of Washington presented a minute of respect to the memory of the late Congressman-elect William M. Brown of New Castle.

In his talk Col. Barnet paid compliments to the leaders of the Republican party and spoke of the coming issues of which he said the tariff was one.

Albright and his men have been instructed to enforce the law. Punch boards are numerous and in some points valuable watches or diamond rings are used as bait. Even children have been using them with which to gamble it is declared and they are declared to be a menace. Persons who have them in operation are being notified to discontinue them at once, prosecution to result in the event of disobeyance of the edict. The police will look carefully after enforcement of the law.

CHANGE TO BE MADE AT DONORA OFFICE APRIL 1

A. J. Vernon to Take Place of R. E. Koehler—Outgoing Official Makes No Announcement of Intentions.

The Donora postoffice will change hands April 1 according to an arrangement that has been made between Postmaster Roman E. Koehler and A. J. Vernon, the postmaster-elect. Mr. Vernon filed his bond with the postoffice department at Washington last Saturday. The fact that it would have been necessary for both Postmaster Koehler and Mr. Vernon to file reports covering the business of March together with other routine duties that would have had to be duplicated caused the incoming official to delay his assumption of the responsibilities.

Postmaster Koehler has not decided upon what he will take up after laying down the duties of Uncle Sam's local representative.

GLASSWORKER'S HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

Dwelling Occupied by Harry Rose at Blainesburg, Near West Brownsville Goes up in Smoke—Origin of The Fire is Unknown.

Fire about 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at Blainsberg, a small village about one half mile from West Brownsville totally destroyed the dwelling owned by Gus Patterson and occupied by Harry Rose, who was until last Saturday an employe of the Brownsville Glass company. The loss on the house amounts to approximately $2,000 and is partially covered by insurance. The loss on the furnishings will reach about $500 with no insurance.

The house was a two-story frame cottage. When the blaze was discovered the whole first floor was a seething furnace of flames. There is no fire protection of any kind at Blainesburg and the only thing to be done was to form a bucket brigade, the most strenuous efforts of which were of no avail at that advanced stage of the conflagration. The house burned to the ground in less than half an hour after the discovery of the blaze.

The origin of the fire is unknown but it is thought that a cinder from the grate of one of the downstairs rooms caused the trouble.

No one was at home when the fire began. Following the shutting down of the glass works, Mr. Rose left to find work at another place. Monday morning Mrs. Rose was seen to leave the house carrying a suit case. The whereabouts of Mr. and Mrs. Rose are unknown.

CHORAL CLUB TO RESUME ITS REHEARSALS TONIGHT

The Charleroi Choral society will hold its weekly meeting for rehearsal tonight at the high school auditorium, when it is expected a large number will be present. Within the last few days the society received some warm words of commendation from G. P. Rockwell, who is in charge of the musical work for the Minges' Evangelistic company. Mr. Rockwell said there should not be less than 200 singers for the organization. He also paid Prof. I. T. Daniel, director, many compliments.

UMBEL TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION

Investigation of Charges Against Him Will Not Now be Pressed

GOVERNOR WRITES LETTER

Robert E. Umbel, President Judge of Fayette county Monday night sent his resignation to Gov. Martin G. Brumbaugh who acepted it. A resolution was introduced in the house at Harrisburg last week for investigation of charges that the judge had entered into a bargain to resign so that his successor could be elected in 1917 in consideration of charges not being pressed against him. The Judiciary General committee had planned to begin hearings today. The judge's resignation ends the proceedings in the legislature. The governor will name a judge to succeed Mr. Umbel.

Upon receipt of the resignation the governor sent this reply to Judge Umbel:

"Your resignation as president judge of the fourteenth judicial district of Pennsylvania, composed of the county of Fayette, has been received and I have accepted the same to take effect now.

"Your counsel, in view of the resolution now pending in the house of representatives, have explicitly stated that the tendering of your resignation at this time is not to be construed as an admission upon your part of the truth of any of the charges made against you."

CALIFORNIA MINERS ARE FRIGHTENED BY GHOST

Mine Nearly Stopped Until Posse, Including the Ghost Himself. Captures Unearthly Specimen, Which Proves to be Man in Light Coat.

Catching a ghost, a pastime in which the ghost itself took part was the unusual sort of happening that nearly resulted in the shutting down temporarily of a portion or all of Vesta No. 4 mine at California, within the last four days.

Last Friday the ghost was first seen in a room of the mines and miners there broke for daylight. The ghost followed them. The faster they ran—and there were some athletes among them—the faster the ghost ran. Even the pit boss became superstitutious and for the first time in his life, it is maintained believed in ghosts.

Saturday it is said there were hardly enough miners on hand to operate the mine. Monday a posse was formed to chase the ghost after it was seen. Somebody scraped up enough nerve to speak, and the ghost replied.

Finally the thing was rounded up, and the "ghost" was found to be a man wearing a light army coat. He had carried a powerful light which made his appearance seem all the more ghastly. Of course he had heard miners talking outside of the ghost and had himself been hunting it. He explained that when the first day he saw men running he thought there was something wrong, and followed. They thought then they were being chased.

LEADERS STRONG FOR CENSORSHIP

Gov. Brumbaugh and Others Endorse The Work of State Board

SPLENDID SERVICE RENDERED

Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh and other of the state leaders have upheld strongly the work of the Pennsylvania State Board of Censors, in their censorship of moving pictures, and there is no indication to believe that certain of those opposed to the censorship will succeed in getting through their repealer of the act creating the "Censoring Commission." Mrs. E. C. Niver, of Charleroi, wife of the late Editor E. C. Niver, of the Mail is the assistant censor.

During its term of service since appointment by Governor Tener, the board of censors has done splendid work toward sorting out the bad in the moving picture world.

Though at first disposed to object to state censorship, many of the leading moving picture men of the state have come to believe in it. They consider that the censorship has improved their service, and improved service has meant improved patronage. J. Louis Breitinger is the chief censor. All the censoring is done in Philadelphia, where the censors have projecting rooms located at the southeast corner of Thirteenth and Vine streets.

FAYETTE COUNTY WILL BE FREE FROM DEBT MAY 1

Neighbor Plans to Clear Big Debt This Spring—Last Nine of Court House Bonds Drawn With Due Ceremony Saturday.

After next May 1 Fayette County will hold the distinction of being one of the very few counties in Pennsylvania entirely out of debt. At that time the last nine of the court house bonds, issued a quarter of a century ago, are to be paid off. The county will then be clear of debt, besides having a large balance in the county treasury.

The last nine of the court house bonds were drawn Saturday afternoon, the annual drawing being conducted with the usual ceremony that has marked such previous events. Each year nine numbers corresponding to the numbers on the bonds have been drawn by a blindfolded person. These were advertised for, and paid off. Recorder of Deeds George C. Steele had the privilege of making the final drawing which will bring Fayette county out of debt. He was blindfolded when he drew the numbers.

The bonds to the amount of $228,000 were issued 25 years ago, and $9,000 or more has been paid off each year since that time by the county.

THREE ENTER PLEAS OF GUILT TO COURT

Donora Man Charged With Larceny Of Skiff—Liquor Cases Aired When Defendants in Case Admit Their Guilt.

There were three before the court Monday to enter pleas of guilty. Two of these though denied their guilt, simply wanting to begin sentence now and not have to wait until the May term to stand trial.

William Willis of Donora, was charged with larceny of a skiff and with asault and battery. The prosecutrix was Mrs. Kate Schuckman. She claimed the defendant took a boat belonging to her. At the same time it was alleged he assaulted Frank Schuckman. John Smith a Slav was held for larceny of as uit case belonging to M. D. Spandan, of Pittsburg. The prosecutor was at Stockdale and had set the suit case down on a porch while he went into a store. ## FINAL WEEK OF MEETINGS BEGIN

Evangelist to Preach Tonight at Tabernacle on "One Step to Life"

OLD SOLDIERS WILL ATTEN

Tonight the final week's work of the evangelistic campaign at the Fifth street tabernacle will begin. This promises to be the best week of the entire service and arrangements have been made for entertaining big delegations nightly. Tonight will be featured by the presence of Civil War veterans who will attend in body, the Veteran Guard Drum corps, and a delegation from the First Baptist church of Monessen. The evangelist will preach on "One Step to Life."

The soldiers will meet at the office of I. O. Wycoff at 7 o'clock. Special seats will be reserved for them, as well as for the other delegations which will attend. It is expected that the drum corps will attend in dress uniform.

Today prayer meetings were continued and a business men's meeting was held at the D. R. Duvall automobile garage.

PASSION PLAY LECTURE GIVEN AT TABERNACLE

Evangelist Illustrates Talk on Wonderful Reproduction of Oberammergau People by Use of Numerous Stereopticon Slides.

The world's famous Passion Play, which is reproduced every ten years by a company of carefully selected players at Oberammergau, at the foothills of the German Alps, was described in an illustrated lecture by Evangelist Minges at the Fifth street tabernacle Monday night. An immense crowd thronged the tabernacle to hear the lecture and see the stereopticon views which were there to present.

Preceding the lecture proper, a program was carried out. The evangelistic male quartet consisting of W. E. Bilyeu, G. P. Rockwell, P. S. Wight and H. J. Bray sang three numbers, one of them, "Nearer My God to Thee" being illustrated. Mr. Wight sang a solo, "Rock of Ages."

Several general stereopticon views were shown of various scenes and persons. The scenes wre mostly American views of points where the evangelistic company has visited, and the persons those who have been associated with the company in its work.

In the study of Oberammergau pictures were shown of the leading characters in the play, the characters being elected by the people of the village because of their blameless lives. Scenes from the Passion week in the life of the Savior were thrown on the screen and the evangelist described them. From the pictures he drew lessons. The pictures were good and the lecture was inspiring.

Henry Sheets was presented with a large Bible at the conclusion of the service as a token of reward for having sold the largest number of tickets for the lecture. He disposed of 395.

STOOP SHOULDERS

Atlas bore the weight of the heavens upon his shoulders, according to the Greek myth, but the burden of mankind who carry the cares of life too often let it rest upon the shoulders. Stoop shoulders in men and women by the thousands are to be found among the followers of sedentary occupations. Now and then when the subject is mentioned folks square away their shoulders and say, "I'm getting a little careless about that." Then they make a momentary resolve that they will brace up and overcome the fault. That is a fault and one that has a decided bearing upon health there is no question, says the state commissioner of health.

No system of physical culture is complete which does not include exercises which teach erect carriage and deep breathing. One of these is impossible without the other. In this lies the chief ill effect of stoop shoulders.

To maintain good health we should use our lungs to their normal capacity at all times. The proper purification of the blood through oxygenation requires ample breathing. Drop your shoulders forward and then try to take a full breath: see how impossible it is to do so in that position. Breathing with the shoulders forward and the breast bone depressed is only partially accomplished. The lower portion of the lungs cannot be emptied and instead of receiving a supply of fresh air they will be filled with residual air.

To work, sit or walk day after day with the shoulders hunched forward, means that the lung capacity is lessened just so much and a corresponding loss of vitality results.

Such a posture also permits the sagging of the diaphragm, a result displacement of the abdominal organs and leads to serious digestive disturbances.

Do not resort to shoulder braces or other mechanical means to correct stooping shoulders. These are but makeshifts which do not remedy the real trouble. Make the mental effort necessary to keep the body erect. By maintaining proper posture the muscles can be strengthened and made to do their work of holding the body upright.

When children exhibit a tendency to grow stoop shoulders parents and teachers should see to it that they are given physical exercises to correct the fault.

THE DEMOCRATIC BLIGHT

That the Democratic administration has been a blight to all the industries of the United States is made apparent in the annual report of the United States Steel corporation re- ... The concern is ... ... [illegible] ... "the fault, ... of the great number of men dropped during the last year an immense ... duty to the United States ... companies of former employes of the corporation were denied employment because their services were not required.

The hostile attitude of the administration at Washington is responsible in every way for the business depression and while every patriotic citizen of the country is lending his help to change the conditions the improvement is so slow in coming that it is hardly noticeable. Investment funds are being held in security. And the entire country is actually suffering from lack of confidence and the constant danger of unfriendly legislation.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

In the April American Magazine Ring W. Lardner, author of "The Letters of a Busher," picks an all-American baseball team. He calls his article "Some Team," and for one of his catching staff he chooses Archer of the Chicago Cubs, whose playing he briefly describes as follows:

"I don't care what they say, they's nobody in the big leagues that can throw with Archer. He can hold the ball till a guy begins shakin' to second base, and then get him standin' up. And he can be sittin' on one ear when he makes the throw, and it'll go where he's aimin' just the same. He's as good as any of 'em at outguessin' guys; he can receive with the best of 'em, and he'll catch all the foul flies that stays in the park. So how can you beat him? And he ain't no rotten hitter, neither."

Under the heading "A Chronicle of Social Events" in a Philadelphia paper, signed by a female writer yesterday was a yarn about a visitor to a Unitarian church and one of the deacons. They were discussing beliefs of various churches and the visitor was inquiring about the Unitarian belief.

"Well, I suppose that, after all, it is much the same thing, is it not?" the visitor inquired.

"Oh," said the Unitarian, "of course, there are differences. Unitarians, for instance, do not believe in hell."

"Don't believe in hell?" cried the visitor. "You don't believe in hell? Then, I'd like to know, where in the name of thunder my business has gone to-"

Italy thinks neutrality is the right thing and is willing to be neutral, but is wondering how in thunder to go about it.

CHARLEROI WOMAN COMPLAINS THAT HER HUSBAND LEFT HER

In the divorce suit just filed at the county seat of Alvira Davis Gaskins of Charleroi, against Dorsey W. Gaskins, the wife testifies that her husband was not a steady worker, that he seldom stayed at home, that he never took her anywhere, that he spent every Sunday at his father's home away from her, that he refused to give her any money and completely ignored her. Finally he left her entirely and the last she heard of him was at Cleveland, O. They were married August 20, 1910, and lived together until October 17 of the same year.

WILL SHOW MARY PICKFORD IN BIG PLAY AT THE COYLE

Mary Pickford, the idol of the screen is being shown today at the Coyle theatre in a play "Mistress Nell" which has for so many years enthralled audiences throughout the country as a stage success.

"Mistress Nell" is considered the greatest heroine of historic and romantic drama and a personified by Mary Pickford is a character of delightful feminity combined with the dramatic force inherent in all the work of this gifted star.

The play is laid in the times of King Charles II of England and is dominated by the heroism and gallantry that marked that brilliant period. Yet in all the realm, and of all the many brave and bold cavaliers and knights, none surpasses, in daring and loyalty, Mistress Nell herself. How she saves the king first from the machinations of his political enemies and later his life itself and how she ultimately wins his heart and love are picturesquely, dramatically, and often tensely depicted. The subject is beautifully costumed and the settings faithfully illustrate the imposing environment of the period.

Lime Starvation Causes Tuberculosis

The Medical Record (New York) of December 18, 1909, contains an article on "The Treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis, Based on the Assumption That the Dietetic Cause of the Disease is Lime Starvation," by Dr. John F. Russell, who says: "The condition which is recognized as preceding the active development of tuberculosis in the adult may be considered as due to lime starvation. * * * Among inorganic substances lime salts appear to be of special physiological importance * * * but if the salts are not in organic combination it is difficult to suppose that the cells can appropriate them for food."

Years of widespread use confirm us in the belief that the success of Eckman's Alterative in cases of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption) and chronic throat and bronchial troubles is due in large measure to its content of lime, so combined with other ingredients as to be easily appropriated by the cells.

Doubtless this has had much to do with the results obtained in many cases of these affections, which appear to have yielded to Eckman's Alterative.

As it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, it is safe to try. Your druggist will order it for you or you can send direct.

Worry Kills More Men Than Fever

The workman who is continually worried over financial difficulties is carrying a double burden—he's worse than the man with walking typhoid fever. Horace Fletcher says "Worry is a sneak thief." It constantly steals the man's strength of mind and body. Eliminate the worry habit by starting a savings account with this bank, add a small percentage of your salary each pay day—it will care for those financial difficulties that come to the family from sickness and other misfortune.
